I have been thinking of the conversations I have had with your mom over the last 15 or so years, we never talked for long but every time it was about our kids. Your mothers face would kind of light up when she talked about you kids. She loved you two and was so proud of both of you. I know her spirit is going to be with you both for the rest of your lives. She is with your Nana and both of them are smiling down on their girls.
