I have lost my best friend. We have so much fun, and so MANY laughs. She was the only one that could bring me back up after my Dad died in 2001. I have been blessed that her family, dear "mama-Nan," and, her sister, Cheryl, have included me in a couple family get-togethers. But, I couldn't help but feel sad, cause I knew how much her family was missing her, and, needing her there with them. Her dear grandsons are missing out on a wonderful grandma. I know when I'm missing her, and cry, she would tell me - "be still and know HE is GOD." (Her favorite bit of verse.) And, I know I will see her again, in Heaven. I pray that all that know her, will know Jesus as their Savior, and, will have the great reunion with her someday, as I will, and, will be looking forward to.

Our prayers are with all of you. May God comfort you and give you his peace. Barb was a co-worker at Baldwin Wallace. She always had a smile and talked so much about her little boys and you could tell how much she loved them. She shared her love of God in the Bible Study group we had there at BfW.
