Wanting to share our sympathy with Ron's family members. He was truly one of the nicest people we've ever met. I had to smile after reading Jessica's comment about him snapping the cape and saying "I have so much to tell you," because even though we didn't know him well, he had an infectious nature about him that made you want to talk with him! Our paths rarely cross these days, Patty Jo, but please know that you and Ron both touched our lives in the best of ways - knowing that we are brothers and sisters in Christ!
